

THE TRADE SHOW ATTENDANCE ANNOUNCEMENT:

MEET THE GUNTERT MILLER ALLIANCE AND SOCOMAQ AT CONEXPO LATIN AMERICA

Ripon, CA, McHenry, IL USA and Santiago, Chile August 28, 2019 - The Guntert Miller Alliance is excited to announce the participation in CONEXPO LATIN AMERICA which is the most important and prestigious Construction and Infrastructure show in the South American continent.

Guntert & Zimmerman is the leader manufacturer of the concrete slipform paving equipment for highways and airports. The company is known for its efficient, productive, durable, highly versatile equipment which meets the contractors' region-specific needs. Miller Formless, on the other hand, is a leading producer of mid-sized automated paving systems such as curb, gutter, barrier and sidewalk construction equipment.

Steven Bowman, the Regional Manager for the Alliance highlights the importance of the show: "Latin America has always been an attractive region for various business investments and road infrastructure sector is not an exception. Latin America heavily invests in road infrastructure and made impressive progress in some areas. This trade show provides a clear picture of the Latin American road infrastructure market opportunities. We are pleased to have an opportunity to participate in region's development by delivering not only the highly productive equipment but also the necessary knowledge and expertise".

The Guntert Miller Alliance and its dealer in Chile Socomaq are pleased to invite everyone interested in the Alliance's concrete paving equipment to visit the Booth # AD848. Do not miss the opportunity to join us in Santiago, Chile on October 2-5, 2019.
